but even more than all of these which seem to guide out lives rhen even in our inmost souls our eagerness is bold, for being you . . .

for being there ...

for trying to understand . . .

for showing that you care . . .

for giving your time for giving us more . . .

for doing the impossible . . .

for all this and more, much more . .

we dedicate this yearbook to you.

There are things about college we will never understand. Things we cannot even seem to cope with. When we're confronted with an overwhelming bill and don't know what to do. When loans, work-study, and grants require more paper work, figures, and signatures than we can deal with. Who will help us through these, and find a way to meet our financial obligations?

Laurel Wells, you have worked with many of us and helped us over countless, insurmountable obstacles. You have calmed our fears with your genuine concern in our problems and worked with endless patience with any student in need. Your empathy and composion, combined with your exceptional abilities have been an overwhelming blessing to each one of us here.

There are other things we will never understand. The array of cognate courses, pre-requisites, and general requirements seem to tangle underneath our frustrated determination. Who can explain all this to us, help us to understand and guide us through the maze to the degree of our choice?

Mary Elam, you have done all of this for any student seeking your assistance. Your warm, friendly smile, and ever-willing desire to help have left us all without words to express our appreciation. Your consistancy and dependable competance have been a priceless benefit to us all.

Mary Elam

HACKMAN HALL CHEMISTRY AND BIOLOGY

ACADEMIA

A thought, a tribute to those who by their mere attendance have made this school a richer and better place to be.

A tribute to the unique contributions each one of us has made. Throughout the course of our daily routines, we have etched ourselves into the very walls of this callege; learning, living, grawing.

Somewhere in the midst of presented philosophies and theories, they have become our own. And from behind the trials thrown across our way, we have emetged better, wiser and stronger.

Berween classes and homework, we've managed to squeeze in those trips to rown where we shapped, are, and tried not to spend more than we had. We have laughed with each other and shared smiles, ideas, dreams . . . a part of ourselves Tagether we have falled guizzes, passed finals, shared candy bar milkshakes and complained about the food.

And there have been quiet maments too; talking with God in search for an answer and confiding in friends the secret hupos and fears of our souls.

Next year there will be others to fill our places, though no one can fit perfectly within the molds we have all shaped. And the molds will change as the newcomers should their shoulders about inside, and the school will change as students come and go. But a place cannot change if it never existed, and ideas cannot be changed if they were never formed. And this is what we have odine Created our own special years. Changes and ideas that will never asoppear until we are completely gane.

Seniors, as everyone knows, are entitled to certain luxuries and priviledges denied the ordinary student. The Faculty-Senior Banquer is one such priviledge, a time when the faculty (instead of lecturing) truly entertain and mingle with the students outside of the classroom.

Those of you who were unable to attend the special event due to a lower class status should not be denied the inside scoop, however. What exactly went on during that banquer? For starters, it was a table set for a king and his court; rolls, salad, croquets, a variety of vegetables, and chocolate peppermint ice cream.

Pastor Gordon Bietz headed up the entertainment as Master of Ceremonies, and he and Steve Spears presented several amusing skirs.

Dean and Mrs. Everett Schlisner sang a duet and then Dean sang "I'm Getting Nothing for Christmas." Dr. Lilya Wagner performed a flute solo.

Karen Wilcox, December Class President, spoke for the entire class when she expressed appreciation to the faculty members for their constant support. As everyone joined in singing "Silent Night," the spirit of Christmas mingled with the warmth of friendships formed through the years.

Sun and sand. Spanish moss and palms. Tropical sunsets. A college campus, surrounded by ocean breezes and exotic greenery.

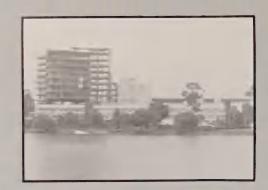

The Southern College extension compus is located in Orlando, Florida; and the beach is only minutes away! Of course, it's not all fun and sun.

Orlando campus is designed especially for Nursing majors who gain valuable experience as they work in the hopsital there. There are charts to memorize, tests to study for, and classes to attend; but when the books are pur away (or maybe before), the ocean is calling.

campus ministries

There is a way to reach out. An avenue to touch the lives of those who need you but will never say so. Opportunities to bring meaning into empty lives without purpose. In a word — ministry.

Campus Ministries sponsors many organizations, each railored to reach a select group and provide a new outlook on the daily routines.

Destiny is the Christian drama group and Sunshine Bands visit the neighboring nursing homes. Big Sister/Big Brother programs provide companionship for elementary children and Adopt-a-Grandparent brings happiness into the homes of the many shur-ins.

Other programs include Dorm Ministry, Campfire Vespers, religious concerts, and Small-Church Visitation. Prison Ministry and Leaves of Autumn (literature distribution) are also Campus Ministry sponsored as well as CABL, SC's temperance program. CABL provides mall and fair booths, school health talks, adult health outreach, and the local Blood Assurance Drive.

Campus Ministries does more than reach out, however. It reaches inward as well, into the very souls of those who participate, resulting in stronger, God-fearing Christians.

EVENTS

For some of us, just getting here was eveniful. And then we were bombarded with porties, banquets, projects, and celebrations. Events-The SA gave us games and jagging, a talent program and a banquer. Even the SA officers inauguration was an event (including a presidential party or Taco Bell!)

For Christmas we had carolling, a seasonal concert, and the traditional tree lighting.

There were sports events, picnics, and special weekends. And then come the biggest event of all — Graduation.

getting here and getting settled "Getting here is half the fun," they say. Well, maybe not.

Students come by car, truck, or anything that can pull a U-Haul trailer. It makes no difference, no vehicle is large enough. The teddy bear will artive with a smashed face and the hangers will be metal spaghetti. Guaranteed.

Another guarantee is the mid-journey crisis.

Whether the student is from New Jersey or North Carolina, it is always the same. Precisely half way to Southern College, He realizes he has forgotten something such as the hair dryer, pillow record deaner, and frisbee.

While pondering this problem, he hears the front right tire blow. Now the student is faced with the decision of a lifetime. Should he: a) unpack EVERYTHING in the trunk to reach the spare, b) try any method (sob story, sweet talk, or deceit), to manipulate the Exxon attendant for a free spare, c) have a tow truck pull the whole thing the remaining distance to school, or d) none of the above.

Upon arrival, the student is appalled to find he has a third floor.

room. Panic sets in as he realizes that between point A, the car, and Point B, his room, is a spine twisting staircase? At this point he receives just one small reprieve, his load is ounces lighter than it could have been had he remembered the forgotten hair dryer, pillow, record cleaner and frisbee.

Once in the room, the stress increases . . . hundreds of priority questions emerge: "Which drawer is mine?" "Is this my closet?" "Is this my bed?" "You mean we have to share the bathroom?" "What are those black things crawling on the floor?"

But registration tops it all. Everyone has experienced it. Waiting in line becomes a way of life for a day or so. How often students have stood in line only to find they must switch to another, twice as long. That near, easy, made-ro-order schedule crumbles under the onslaught of comments such as: "You can't take that class yet." "Sorry, that class is filled." "You must have pre-requisite number 201." "That class is filled too." "By the way, you forgot to leave room for a lab on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons." These statements become the real crunchers that send the student back to the dorm room, torn between the decision to leave or to stay.

But all the frustration melts away as opportunities, faces, and friends bring the promise of new adventures . . .

week of prayer

pancake breakfast

A special commitment weekend began Thursday evening with the exciting Faculty vs. Youth Directors softball game. The faculty won, but the youth directors took the defeat in good stride. Youth Directors from the surrounding conferences attended the weekend events to provide guidance and reassurance to any student seeking it. There was an air of Godliness and relaxed socializing that carried throughout the entire weekend.

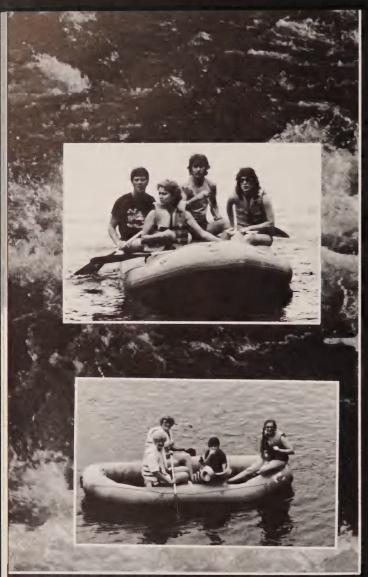

Associate World Church Youth Director,

Richard Barron, addressed the student body Sabbath morning with his strong, purposeful message. "God will bear you up on eagle's wings. Follow Him and He will lift you above your trials. This He has promised to do." The weekend closed Sunday morning with a special pancake breakfast held in the student park, and left everyone feeling closer to their Maker.

A week later, Pastor Ray Terz from Southeastern California visited our campus for the Fall Week of Prayer. An excellent speaker, Postor Tetz spoke of creativity playing a part in our Christian lives and relationship with God.

To live purposeful (as opposed to random and chaofic) lives was the main thrust of Terz's message. How to do this and be creative in our existance were the answers he provided and explained.

Friday evening closed Spiritual Emphasis Week with the ordinance of humility followed by communion in the form of an Agape Feast.

Do you enjoy sunbathing, water and excitement? Mild sorts of danger with a relaxing edge to them? Such was the Hiwassee River Raffing trip, finally encountered after an hour's ride on the bus. Warm, dry sun only partially compensated for wet, freezing water, leaving many with red tinted faces and scorched bodies, wondering how on earth it could have happened. Swift currents, screaming rapids and constant waterfights followed the laughing group down the river, with your "some in every crowd" daredevils diving from the overpasses. Make-em-yourself hoagies awaited the starving survivors at the end of the journey along with the bus tide back to reality.

Rollercoasters, freefalls and fun. Musical shows and terrified screams. Lines of fun and loads of people. It's Six Flags over Georgia and Southern College is there. Have you ever rafted down Thunder River or ridden a complete circle through the air? Have you thought about falling a few hundred feet? One forgets he is safe, locked within a sreel cage. Homework and worries are lost in the struggle for composure and survival. It's a place for laughter, thrills, and friendships. A place made for fun and excitement, making memories one cherishes forever.

fall picnic

Run, jump, eat rill you can eat no more, and be with friends. Sound fun? Of course it does, and it was. The annual fall picnic sponsored by the SA was held in the student park and sported events with competition between the classes such as an obstacle course and a balloon ross. An outdoor dinner of good ole American hordogs and beans were served and plenty of ice cream for all, but the fundidn't stop there. After-dinner entertainment was a skit by the ever creative SA. Various musical selections were followed by Disney's classic "Now You See It, Now You Don't." Another day of memories had been made.

The Student Missions' International Food Fair is a world of exotic sights, sounds, and smells. It is Mexico, Italy, and the Far East crowded into one room. Take your time and wander from booth to booth, stopping to taste John Krum's Delicacies of the Islands, and food from the Korean rable prepared by Deborah Doman.

Listen to the music of far-away places and see fascinating slides of different cultures and lifestyles around the world.

international food fair

Be a model — or just look at them. It's a hair show featuring Southern College's own students. Everything from punk to prep, GQ to new wave is presented here and no secrets hidden. "Did you know that HE dyes his mustache and SHE lightens her hair?" A natural look doesn't always mean totally natural.

Lights, action! But where are the cameras? They were there, and here is the proof.

Bobby, Terry, and Quinn are some hot bachelors; how is Sheri Kelley to choose? One says he's a weasell, another says a puppy.

Vicki, Kelli, and Sylvia are all dying to go out with Bill, but one slips and says that she enjoys the atmosphere of an ice cream parlor. Bill incorrectly assumes she is fat. It's the dating game — live in Ackerman Hall. And what about the class feud? Do you know the most popular places to study on this campus? What about things to do on a date? The Juniors knew it all. They knew more than the Seniors!

SA Game Night — another SA sponsored event.

sa game night

sigma theta chi reception

Step into the armosphere of Sigma Thera Chi and experience the world of the Walden Club. Twentry-one stories above Chartanooga, relaxed and mingling couples passed the large, glass windows and enjoyed an evening view of the ciry.

Har de'vours were served on a buffer before dinner and a desert of Signal Mounrain Pie smothered in real whipped cream preceded the entertainment.

The "Unknown MC" rurned out to be none other than Sherri Kelly who did a unique job of introducing the various acrs. Joey Bird started things off with his solo, "Somewhere Down the Road" which was followed by other performances of "Reunited," "New York, New York," "On the Wings of Love," and "I Pledge my Love."

Rod Hartle shared a variety of interesting questions in his monologue. "Why are buildings not called builts once construction is completed?" and "Is it considered bad taste to give a one-armed man a digital warch?" He didn't answer the questions.

Kevin Rice and Jonathan Wurl performed their own personal composition "Aire for Guitars'' and no one who was there will forget Mike and Suzie's duet of "Send in the Clowns."

Pedro, the "Most Famous Jumping Flea in all the World" performed for us and Glenn, our renowned SA President, demonstrated his "natural" kiss.

It was an evening that promoted remembrances with fond visions of candlelight, low music, great entertainment, and elegant romance.

riverboat cruise

Clouds overcast the sky, a steady drizzle dampens the air, and a sharp, cold wind is coming in off the river. Couples huddle close in a bundle of coats and blankers, but who really minds? Everyone is full of good food, hot cider, and doughnuts — enjoying an evening of Bluegrass entertainment performed by Bill Young and his band. Thoughts of homework are far away as one drifts along the shoreline, enjoying the world of the riverboar and forgetting that soon it will end.

"I'll walk, I'll jog, I'll crawl, I'll pray to finish, all for 25¢ a lap, $1 or more if you're generous."

It is the SA's Jog-a-thon, designed to raise money for a new typesetter in the Southern Accent's office.

A rotal of 2,500 forms were sent out by the students, and approximately 125 people participated in the event.

Joe Osborne and Dinny Neo were the two most outstanding joggers, completing 35 and 27 laps respectively. JT Shim did much of his work at the desk, sending our over 300 forms.

For the support and dedication shown to this school by their participation, we dedicate this page to the joggers.

fall festival week

A new look hir Southern College. A basic, down-ro-earth, double-knit, regular guy and girl look — or at least it seemed to be the new look. The next day, however, the Old West moved in, complete with leather vests, boots, spurs, and cowboy hats. No one seemed to contest these too much until the following day when the preps came out of their closers.

One would guess that such a diversity in tastes could amount to all-out war; but at a barn party that Sunday night, good spirits and friendship abounded among the ghosts, mummies, clowns, nerds, and regular people. Prizes were even awarded! Grand prize was given to a couple of real maniacs: Sherri Kelly and Denise Read.

There were cheers as other mummies, nerds, etc. received their prizes; and all ended up on the floor of the barn watching a movie enrilled "Creature of the Black Lagoon." Quite fitting, considering the strange people in attendance.

student association banquet

On the street below, headlights blend into an awe-inspiring scene, creating a special kind of romance.

And what is taking place at the Fairyland Club high in the Tennessee hills? Violin music. Hundreds of beautiful belies on the arms of their dashing escorts are standing on the winding staircase, holding hands before the huge plate windows.

Dinner served. Salad, eggplant, with brocholli and carrots filled everyone to contentment even before the desert of chocolare cream pie.

Christmas entertainment follows Glenn McElroy's appearance as Santa Claus. C.C. Lindsey sings the "Christmas Song," and her sister Louanne performs a piano medley. "Tennessee Christmas" is a beautiful duet with Myron Mixon and Valorie Johnson; Steve Fitzgerald is up to his old tricks again. It's too bad that the people below ience at least once in a lifetime, an evencan't hear Cedric William's vocal medley ing made for I-o-n-g good-byes and lasting or Tom Mohler's solo of "Merry Christmas, Darling." "Have Yourself a Very Merry Christmas," Sung by Mary Gilbert ends the entertainment.

Down on the highway, no one is caught up in the plot of "Savannah Smiles," but at the Fairyland Club, the couples are on the edges of their seats.

It was an evening everyone should expermemories.

ice-skating

You needn't know all the twists, twirls, and fancy moves that the professionals do to enjoy an evening on the ice. It's a whole lor of fun just being there with friends. Even if you fall and make a fool of yourself, it's food for laughs and crazy memories. And who knows, you might just IMPRESS someone! Just because you're skating on ice doesn't mean it's cold Ask anyone who went — it was a blast. Or perhaps you went yourself!

Christmas is a time for this:

Then they played "Here Comes Santa Clause;" and Edgar Grundser himself appeared, somewhat disguised as Santa.

The evening ended on a fitting note with the band playing "We Wish You a Merry "Thristmas," leaving everyone touched with the magic and spirit of the holidays.

caroling

Weeks in advance freezing nights and chilly days forecasted the coming of Christmas, but the heartwarming sounds of Christmas carols can offset the coldest weather. Strains of "Silent Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" fill a rainy evening sky with goodwill that floats along to every house in sight. Joining rogether with friends to sing melodies of the season, creates warm memories as love is spread to all it rouches.

sa inauguration

"If we lose our dream, we die," presidentelect Glenn McElroy advised the students and faculty who had gathered for the Student Association Inauguration.

"Whatever business you're in, it all boils down to one thing — you're in the people business," said JT Shim, vice-president elect.

After farewell speeches from SA president Alvin Franklin and college president Frank Knittle, the 1983 Student Association officers were sworn in.

"... It's up to you, New York, New York ..." Dapper MCs in tuxedos and rophats sauntered through a make-believe city to the tune of a famous Frank Sinatra melody. Steve Vogel and Steve Decker doubled up on Ol' Blue Eyes to open the SA talent program of 1983.

Chris Hawkins' performance of "Truly" rook the evening's Grand Prize for audience appeal. Judges' First Prize went to a girls' quintet for their "Sentimental Journey" medley of songs from the 40's.

A song performed by Brent Byers and written by Kim Deardorff entitled "Forever I Love You" came away with Second Prize.

Ken Bradley as another Sinatra clone, Bruce Harnage as Willy Nelson, Terry Harnage as Johnny Cash, and Lance Martin as Kare Smith rook Third Prize with their "Walk Through Musical History." talent show

college days

Ir's Southern College.

Perhaps it doesn't sound so exciting now that you are actually here buckling beneath the load of homework, tests, essays, and final projects.

But during College Days '83, when the only things on your mind were new places, new faces, and responsibility of adulthood, you couldn't wait for it all to begin.

Girls, do you remember checking out the guys? THREE TIMES AS MANY as you knew in academy.

Guys, do you remember checking out the girls? FIVE TIMES AS MANY as you knew

School buses, bands, sirens, and flags . . . the red carpet was out, and you couldn't wait to be our of the spotlight and into the "real" world.

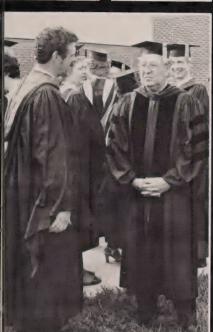

And now you know.

It's Southern College!!!

graduation

Graduation. It is a milestone that turns so many happy occasions into memories that with friends over nothing. one shouldn't forget. So remember.

Remember all the trips with the Orchestra, Band, Gymnastics, Campus Ministries, and Chorale.

Spring Breaks to New York, Colorado, Florida, and perhaps best of all, HOME.

Those ridiculous moments spent laughing

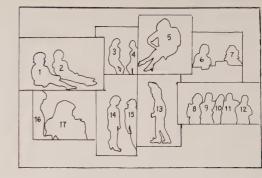

Those trips to the Dean (They seem funny now).

Remember the special moments we spent together.

Remember me.

ORGANIZATIONS

They one the heartbeat of the college, providing for personal growth, expansion of knowledge, and good entertainment. They structure unique social events and deal with immediate student concerns.

The musical groups make an impact in many areas, providing spiritual selections and secular concerts while organizing various rours.

School preriodicals are staffed with students who make it their job to let everyone know what is happening, and the Campus Ministries Club is involved in many community autreach programs.

Student government plays an important part both in dealing with student concerns and providing events of enjoyment and entertainment for the entire student body.

Clubs for various fields of interest and technol ogy abound to meet specified needs and help reach personal goals. Business biology, radio and religion are some of the avenues being opened by ambinous, talented leaders who help students gain new insights and understandings of the aspects of a chosen coreer.

Organizations, the heartbear of the college are the very pulse which adds life to daily routines.

This is

Moberly Regional Medical Center

Surprised that a $14 million, 120-bed hospital of this stature would be located in a rural area like Moberly, Missouri? Most people don't expect small towns to offer much in health care services. Not so in Moberly, where we have a medical center many cities twice our size would envy. MRMC offers a full range of medical and surgical services, including the most up to date technology. But we haven't lost our small-town flavor. Here, we care -- and our patients know it

A SPECIAL HOSPITAL FOR SPECIAL PATIENTS

In the belief that rehabilitation could best be furthered in a quiet setting, a group of Seventh-day Adventist laymen purchased a 260-acre estate on a wooded hilltop and established the hospital in 1960.

Realizing the need to serve the increasing number of disabled persons, the board decided to build a larger facility with an 80-bed capacity, which was completed in 1974.

We are the only free-standing rehabilitation hospital in the Adventist Health System and are accredited by the Joint Commission of Accreditation.

Our comprehensive rehabilitation hospital serves the special needs of patients who are determined to return to a productive lifestyle after suffering from disabling injuries or illnesses.

Our medical, nursing, therapeutic, and ancillary staff of over 300 workers is dedicated to our patients' physical, emotional, social, and spiritual health.

TEAM FOCUS ON INDIVIDUAL NEEDS

Reading Rehabilitation Hospital exists as a bridge between helplessness and a useful and meaningful lifestyle. The restoration of human dignity is the goal of each rehabilitative endeavor at our facility.

To reach the goal, our hospital offers specialized services and programs focusing upon the total rehabilitative team effort for the patient. Effective rehabilitation depends on the combined efforts of the patient, the family, and the professional team under the direction of the physician. Our programs are designed to meet the physical, psycho-social, and spiritual needs of each patient.

What do I say? To you who have been so patient with me. Can "Thank you" really say all that you deserve?

Thank you for still trying when my line was busy, for sharing your umbrella with me, for not laughing at those embarrassing moments.

I would have liked to have spent more time with you. Too often I know, I'd smile a quick "hello" and dash Abaut my busy routine.

Thank you for being there when I finally did stop, when I did take the time just to talk, when I really needed you.

Thank you for sharing with me The laughter and the tears Even if much of it was in retrospect.

"Thank you" cannot say all that you deserve, Not can any other arrangement of words. For I have become a stronger person, a happier person, and a better person.

All because of you.

may 22, 1984 Lear Sparon, In not nuch with words! In glad dot to know you botter this year. It has been a fur year. Pizza, TB, areade, "TV", Bledwas (tranks for introducing them to me). Thanks for making it a great year. Boo how, everyone is barring! Il But - I will be seeing you again. I have that way. Things will never be the same, it never is. But cod is sately grotter us and caros. Take care! Love, (linda)
